Communists Batter Troops of 4th Division

Green Units' Casualties 'Moderate'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Coming in waves through jungle and elephant grass, North Vietnamese army regulars pounced on untried troops of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division today and reports indicated the enemy attacks bloodied the Americans badly in their first taste of the war.

The attacks, near the Cambodian border 230 miles north of Saigon, were the first reported in weeks in which North Vietnamese regulars were engaged. The last attacks by North Vietnamese came about three weeks ago against U.S. Marines south of the demilitarized zone dividing the two Viet Nams.

3 Copters Downed
In the fresh fighting, North Vietnamese guns downed three U.S. helicopters, one of them a medical evacuation craft that had just picked up American wounded.

The troops of the 4th Division came to Viet Nam in August and September from Ft. Lewis, Wash.

The division has one brigade based at the ammunition dump near Saigon that blew up after a Viet Cong attack Friday night with grenades, automatic weapons and mortar fire. One mortar round hit an ammunition storage pad, a U.S. spokesman said.

The remainder of the 4th Division set up a base camp near Pleiku in the central highlands.

The North Vietnamese launched five attacks against these division units in the highlands Friday night and today.

Casualties Moderate
A U.S. spokesman described the infantrymen's casualties as moderate, indicating they were hit severely. Allied officials do not specify their own battle casualties in numbers for reasons of security.

Three companies — or about 600 men — of the 4th were hit in the waves of attacks 6 to 15 miles east and northwest of Pleiku Djereng Special Forces camp.

The fighting in the central highlands—possibly the start of a new Communist drive—brought the North Vietnamese back into action after a lapse of a few weeks since fighting died down along the demilitarized zone.

B52 Support
The flareup came during Operation Paul Revere IV, the fourth phase of an operation which began early last summer and which has been taken over by 4th Division troops.

Guam-based U.S. B52 bombers flew to the support of the 4th Division infantrymen today.

Records Tied With Red Tape

Paperwork Buries Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional subcommittee says if one government record was burned each second, it would take 2,000 years to destroy them all.

Government paperwork costs $8 billion a year, the House Post Office and Civil Service subcommittee added in a report this week on its study of the situation. It also came up with these staggering statistics:

Staggering Statistics
—It takes 15 billion copies of 360,000 government forms to operate federal agencies.

—Some 225,000 employees spend most of their work day tucking documents into 25 million cubic feet of files. The executive offices alone have two million file cabinets.

—The government spends $15 billion annually writing about one billion letters. The panel said $100 million to $200 million could be saved each year by writing shorter, more concise letters.

Computers threaten to intensify the paperwork blizzard, the committee said. One computer can churn out a stack of records 20 feet high each day, it added, and with the government's 2,600 computers working weekly shifts — holidays off — this stack can be 1.3 miles high in a year.

Control Urgent
"Understanding and control of this new paperwork influence is urgent," the committee said of computers.

The government could lighten its paperwork load, the report said, if agencies would simply throw away some of the directives — those memos, instructions and communications inside the government — which fill up 26-million pages a year.

Too many of these directives, it said, are kept in valuable file space.

Industry More Daring
"If an organization will take the risk" of tossing some documents in the wastebasket, it added, "much paperwork can be avoided. Here, industry seems more daring than government."

Not to be lopsided, the report hailed some "success stories." Among them, the Navy and Marine Corps eliminated 18,402 directives and the Federal Aviation Agency reduced its files by 5.5 million pages.

"There are hopes of paperwork savings," the committee said.

Its report was 70 pages long.

LBJ Appears Anxious to Get Back on Stump

President Expected To Tour States Before Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, with many miles yet to log on his Asian tour, appears anxious to take to the hustings soon after his return to the United States next Wednesday.

The White House is saying nothing about the President's campaign plans, but Johnson himself is dropping hints about what he will do in the week before the Nov. 8 election.

For example, Johnson told a Brisbane, Australia, audience he had visited four Australian cities in which half of that country's population lives. He added that he had been in 50 of the United States this year and still had not reached half of the U.S. population.

Has "Homework"
"So, I have some homework to do when I get home," he said. There have been reports Johnson will campaign for Democrats in California, Illinois, Massachusetts, Montana and Oregon—among other states.

But Sen. Wayne Morse, a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, doesn't think Johnson's visit to his home state of Oregon will help Morse's fellow Democrats.

"If he does (visit Oregon)," Morse said Friday, "he probably will help elect (GOP Gov. Mark O.) Hatfield."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon renewed Friday his prediction Republicans will pick up a net gain of 40 seats in the House, three in the Senate and 700 in state legislatures.

Congress Failed
In Albuquerque, N.M., Nixon urged election of more Republicans, saying this will keep the government from doing more and more and the people less and less. Later, in Fort Smith, Ark., Nixon said the 39th Congress failed in three major fields—peace, prices and crime—which he said are the major issues in the current campaign.

In Chicago, Rep. Charles Weltner, D-Ga., said some politicians are using "code words" instead of old-fashioned racist statements. Some of the code words, he said, are "crime in the streets," "federal dictatorship" and "backlash."

Weltner decided not to seek re-election rather than support Lester Maddox for governor of Georgia.

Cubans Get Medals From North Korea
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos and Raul Castro, minister of the armed forces and brother of Prime Minister Fidel Castro, were decorated Friday by the North Korean government. Havana radio reported.

The broadcast, monitored here, said both received North Korea's National Flag Order.

They were visiting North Korea after attending the summit conference of Soviet bloc countries in Moscow.

Renews Peace Bid

Johnson Announces Added Military Help for Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — President Johnson combined a nomic and social measures to renewed peace bid to Hanoi to help Thailand's people, particularly in the undeveloped northeastern provinces where the Red threat is greatest. But he said Thailand was wise to recognize early the need to meet the Communist threat there.

Saying that communism feeds on misery, Johnson said he would order Secretary of State Dean Rusk and U.S. Ambassador Graham Martin to see what might be done to help in a five-year economic development program. Thanom had told Johnson about plans for a multimillion-dollar five-year program for economic and social development to encompass health, education, electric power, highway and other development programs.

Less-Melodious Baying

Yes, Pigs Can Point, Florida Men Discover

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The baying of hunting hounds may someday be replaced by a less melodious cry — and to the careful listener it may sound like "oink, oink."

This is a claim of F. C. (Bud) Clardy.

It took Clardy, who operates a bookkeeping service, five years and more than $500 to win his bet that pigs can and do point like bird dogs.

Something to Behold
"A hog pointing for quail is something to behold," he told two friends five years ago. They laughed and the bet was on.

Seeking to prove his point, Clardy began writing letters to bird magazines, dog magazines and even hog magazines.

Then, he says, he received a letter one day from a reader of a book, "Pigs from the Cave to the Cornfield." The authors said they had a hog which would point at any kind of game except rabbits, Clardy said.

Berney Stalks Birds
Clardy says more proof came from Jack Hough, an Indiana farmer who wrote saying he had a hog named Berney that stalks birds — and fills in as a saddle horse.

When confronted with this proof, Clardy said his friends, Fort Lauderdale printers Jack Hughes and Paul West, admitted they had lost the wager.

As a result, motorists driving between Miami and Fort Lauderdale Sunday can see Hughes and West trudging along the roadside.

Behind them in a cart will be a 60-pound porker. Around its neck will be a sign saying: "Yes, pigs can point."

U.S. Asks Pullout

VC, Hanoi Regulars Are 'External Forces'

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., that proposals for withdrawal of the department believes the conditions include "the intent that Viet Cong military units would be deactivated."

Beyond U.N. Call
State Department officials took the view that this went beyond Goldberg's Sept. 22 call in the U.N. General Assembly for a phased withdrawal "of all external forces, those of North Viet Nam as well as those of the United States and other countries aiding South Viet Nam."

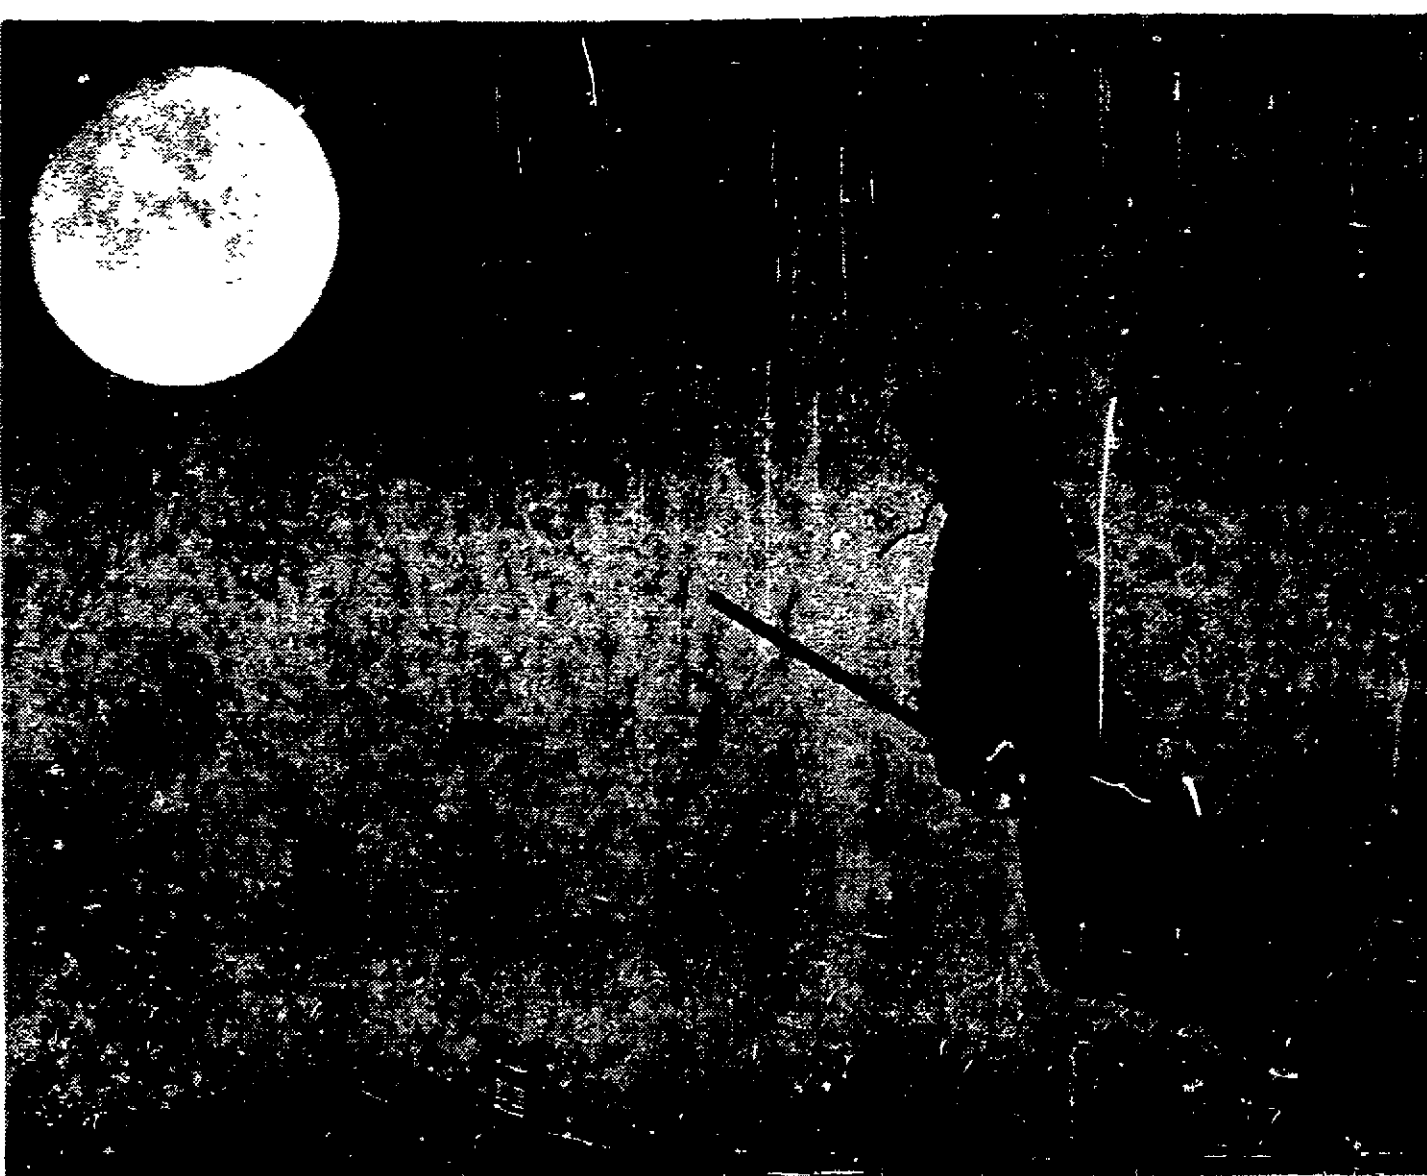

But professional diplomats said the United States is not ready to spell out publicly all its conditions for a withdrawal agreement. If every detail was spelled out, they said, this could be a barrier to progress.

However, officials said the Manila communique and Goldberg's speech would call for the removal of an estimated 47,000 to 50,000 North Vietnamese regulars now fighting in South Viet Nam in 70 battalions.

In addition, the hard-core infiltrators who form the political leadership for the Viet Cong also would be considered "external forces" that should be withdrawn, these officials said.

NEENAH — A call for the hiring of five additional men, one to be added "as soon as possible," was made by fire chief Fred Diesterhaupt as he entered the department's 1967 budget requests.

Diesterhaupt noted the city was growing in area and population and the increased number of ambulance calls has taken away some of the manpower from fighting blazes.

He said one man should be added soon to allow the department to have a full-time fire inspector and with the addition of the other four, the department would be able to discontinue the use of summer replacement help.

The expenses involved in hiring the five men amount to $26,520 for salaries and another $750 for clothing allowances for the first year. Two promotions would be made if the additional

The judge said the writ was misdirected to the city clerk but should have been addressed to the city and common council Town Atty. Everett A. Stecker, in his appeal, said the clerk was listed in the title of the writ, and that a defect in the title should not be fatal to the writ.

City Atty. Richard Steffens has argued that since the city has purchased and annexed the property the question is moot.

KAUKAUNA — The Kaukauna Vocational, Technical and Adult School Board voted Thursday to support the area school concept and approved a resolution asking the state board to approve the greater Fox Valley area as a single district.

The greater Fox River Valley encompasses all of the nine school districts in Outagamie County, seven in Waupaca Institute, Dominic Bordini, director, said.

"Assessing the present programs objectively and realistically, the cities of Neenah, Appleton, Kimberly State Board of Vocational, Technical, Adult Education as a basis for the establishment of education on an area basis for more than 30 years.

"To meet the future technological needs of the future, the combined efforts of the entire area must initiate a post high school institution for the education and training of technicians and highly skilled craftsmen," Bordini said.

Courses will have state board approval and be of associate degree standards, both state and locally oriented. Courses stressing office occupations, civil, industrial, health, business and agricultural areas will be offered.

Since this is the third fastest growing area in the state it is important we support the area school concept, he concluded.

Red Feather Nets $103,901

40 Per Cent of Goal Reached After Three Weeks

Volunteers reported Friday that 40 per cent of the $254,835 goal set by the 1966 United Red Feather campaign has been met.

A total of $103,901 has been collected to support 14 Appleton service agencies.

Large firms, under the chairmanship of H. P. Dixon and H. O. Barney, led the nine divisions with $62,164 for 32 per cent.

"Many of the firms are holding back reports until employee solicitation is completed," Dixon said.

With 45 per cent reported the general division has raised $5,965 under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. B. Thompson.

Clarence Mitchell's public-civic division reported 39 per cent with $5,256.

Highest percentage raised in all divisions was 71 per cent from insurance and real estate in the general business section under the direction of Dwight Warren.

Byrnes explained the importance of their campaigning activity and related it to our system of government. He told the children their time was coming when they would become part of the decision making process.

He said the important right and decision of voting carried with it a responsibility to determine what courses of action the government is to take and which candidates to elect.

He urged them to begin learning today in their school classes since "citizenship is a day to day and year to year process. It is your government, I hope you do a good job when you vote," he said.

Byrnes and the bishop chatted briefly before the caravan departed for Shiocton.

Appleton Boy Steps Off Bus, Is Hit by Car

A six-year-old Appleton boy was reported in satisfactory condition this morning at Appleton Memorial Hospital after he was injured at 4 p.m. Friday when he got off a bus and was involved in such organization as the Easter Seal Society, County Trunk OO, one-half mile north side of the highway.

Reports said the boy dashed around the front of the bus and was struck by a westbound car. Driver of the car was Charles J. Beyer, 50, Shiocton. The boy was taken to the hospital in Lindy's ambulance.

Though Bertram admits there have been many outstanding moments in his life came on the memorable Fourth of July, 1965, when he got a hole-in-one on the golf course.

The sentence came after Judge Keller accepted Erdman's plea of no contest and found the former Appleton man guilty. Erdman, who was arrested Sept. 28 by Madison police, pleaded no contest. He was through his court-appointed attorney, on Oct. 14. Judge Keller had delayed decision on the verdict.

Erdman was charged following investigation by Appleton detectives. Detective Merlyn Brux told the court Friday that Erdman is separated from his wife and family, the court was told.

Appleton Sets Penalties for Sign Vandalism

Offenders Could be Assessed Fines, Cost of Repairs

Vandals defacing street and traffic signs are liable for $50 to $100 fines and must pay for replacing or repairing the damaged property, City Atty. David Geenen said Friday.

However, Geenen didn't think the city could offer a reward for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of vandals.

The city attorney issued his opinion at the request of the city council. Ald. John Ayers (12th) had advocated paying a reward to help catch vandals.

He quoted an ordinance which applied to the situation, one calling for a $1 to $100 fine, and $10 to $900 for any subsequent convictions.

In addition, Geenen called attention to a provision of the code which made restitution a requirement.

The ordinance also makes the parents of a minor responsible for the latter's actions. Geenen said parents would have to pick up the tab for damage to any public property.

Geenen said it was evident the ordinance already provides for additional penalty over the fine.

However he agreed with Ayers and the members of the council's public safety committee that stiffer fines could be levied against offenders.

Geenen said state law allows the mayor of a community, with council consent, to offer a reward in the case of a serious crime.

But Geenen was of the opinion the statute limited the power to offer reward only in aggravated cases.

"I doubt that defacing of traffic signs would be aggravated enough to come within the definition of heinous offense," Geenen said.

Price, Wage Controls Should be Last Effort

BY SYLVIA PORTER

You are among the overwhelming majority of Americans who favor direct Government controls over prices and wages at this time. In the latest Louis Harris survey, an astounding 71 per cent of those polled said they would vote for a Congressional candidate who favored a system of price-wage controls — a ratio of better than three to one.

If this includes you, this is what I know about you. You either don't remember what an utter mess direct price-wage controls caused in World War II and the Korean War, or you never have had any real-life experience of living under this type of controls and thus you do not understand what you are favoring.

Bureaucracy, Red Tape
You don't appreciate what a suffocating bureaucracy and web of red-tape direct price-wage controls would create.

You don't realize that no organization exists today to administer these controls and that even if the controls were voted, it would take many months to establish the organization, many more months to staff it, still more months to get it into working order.

You don't comprehend the extent to which direct controls usually lead almost immediately to undercover defiance and violation of the controls. Because prices can't rise openly above the ceilings, black markets for goods spring up in which products in demand are bought and sold secretly above the ceilings. Because wages can't rise openly above the ceilings, black markets for workers in demand are raised — via many subterfuges — above the ceilings. Despite the threat of penalties ranging from the annoying to the frighteningly severe, violations become commonplace.

You don't perceive the dread-dread chain of events set into motion by price controls. Since it would be impossible for any policing organization to super-vise the prices and quality of millions of items without absorbing manpower we simply don't have to spare, the price controls must be limited to a stated number of essential items.

One thing that happens is that manufacturers tend to cut the output of the controlled (unprofitable) items and to shift to the output of uncontrolled (more profitable) items. Another thing that happens is that producers of goods and services subject to controls try to get around them: re-by reducing quality — and thus deterioration of quality becomes a substitute for higher prices.

The result is a growing scarcity and quality deterioration of the controlled essential products and a growing abundance of the uncontrolled less essential items. This, in turn, leads to rationing of the essential products to help direct the consumption of the products. This, in turn, leads to the necessity for another organization with more manpower to police the rationing.

Situation Worsens
A bad situation becomes worse and a worse situation becomes increasingly intolerable.

In an all-out emergency which arouses the patriotism of the nation, direct controls can and do work, but even then only for a while. As World War II and the Korean war were on, violations became so widespread that the controls were a mockery in many areas.

Of course, should Viet Nam escalate to a point of crucial emergency, all stops would be pulled out and direct price-wage controls would come along with many other stiff regulations: curbs on installment buying, mortgage, business investment, profits, etc. But we're not at this point and hopefully will never get to it.

Superficially, direct price-wage curbs may seem more palatable than income tax hikes or cuts in non-defense spending, but this judgment is superficial and unrealistic.

Direct price-wage controls are considered a "last resort" by those who remember or who have studied real-life experience with them — and a "last resort" is precisely what they should be.

Chemist Leads Science Session

Dr. Allen C. West, newcomer to the Lawrence University science faculty, will discuss "The Basic Techniques of Flame Spectrometry and Some Applications" in a science colloquium at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room 161 of Youngchild Hall.

His talk, which is open to the public, will be preceded by a coffee hour at 4 p.m.

Dr. West, assistant professor of chemistry, joined the faculty this fall. He formerly taught at Williams College and Cornell University. He received a B.A. degree from Princeton University, and a Ph.D. from Cornell where he specialized in analytical chemistry.

He has published two articles on flame spectrometry, both in the periodical analytic chemist.

Dr. West is a member of the American Chemical Society, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the American Association of University Professors.

His talk is part of a bi-weekly science colloquium series which continues throughout the Lawrence academic year.

Apollo Launch Pushed Back Until 1967

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

Problems with the Apollo spacecraft have ruled out the possibility of launching it into orbit this year with a three-man crew.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had hoped to move the launch forward into December from its originally planned "first quarter of 1967."

However, the problems make a launching this year impossible, NASA sources reported.

The troubles involve Apollo's environmental control system, which is designed to provide life support for the three astronauts for up to 14 days.

Pilots for the Apollo 1 mission will be Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee. They are to bring out all systems of the craft, forerunner of the vehicle that is to transport U.S. astronauts to the moon.

Preparations were progressing smoothly here for the four-day Gemini 12 flight launching Nov. 9. This final Gemini flight will be piloted by Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.

The announcement was made Friday by Richard Atkins, Apollo building inspector.

Chester J. Meiers Builder, Inc. will erect a $300,000 apartment structure at 15 Woodmere Court. The building will be 30 by 34 feet and 22 feet high, having 3,304 square feet.

The apartment will be of frame and brick veneer construction.

Man Who Begged for Jail Forfeits Bail on Resulting Tippy Charge

A 41-year-old Appleton man, Police Department Oct. 21 and Police Department Oct. 1 and asked to be jailed, Friday forfeited a $24 bond in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on an intoxication charge.

Authorities said Harold A. Anderson, 808 E. Hancock St., entered the police station about 7:30 p.m. and asked the desk sergeant to lock him up. When the sergeant refused, Anderson reportedly threatened to hit him.

After Anderson again refused to leave the station, the desk sergeant booked him and placed him in a cell. Anderson was released when his wife posted bond the next morning.

Information Sought on Controlling Menopause

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have just finished a book which extols the use of estrogen, to begin around the middle 30's, to eliminate the upsets and do away with menopause, so that menstruation will continue for life.

I am in my middle 70's and somewhat skeptical. However, I am interested in knowing if such treatments are now being successfully used or are only in the experimental stage — Mrs. B.P.

I've read excerpts of the book you mention, and think that fundamentally the theme is well taken — the use of estrogen which is one of the important female hormones.

At the same time I think your skepticism is justified if the use of estrogen is interpreted as some sort of fountain of youth that will keep women young indefinitely and prevent menopause.

First of all, healthy women in their 30's do not need extra estrogen. Their systems produce it abundantly. The exception occurs when the ovaries have been removed, and then estrogen, to replace what no longer is being secreted, is very useful.

Second, menopause is not eliminated. It is a natural process of aging. When it occurs, and if there are unpleasant symptoms (this is usual but not invariable) estrogen does wonders in making women more comfortable.

Third, there is an increasing trend to use of hormones in older women like yourself in the 70's. Such treatment perks them up a bit, but it is not a cure-all nor does it set back the Calendar.

So while it is fatuous to expect the impossible, judicious use of hormones, at the right time, makes good sense. A further benefit is prevention of certain bone changes (osteoporosis) which often occur as natural hormone production diminishes.

I suppose it is needless to point out that estrogen or other hormones should be used only under supervision of a physician.

The amount must be controlled, and the woman should be aware of certain symptoms. Periodic spotting is one, and when this occurs Pap smears

Friday to 15 days in jail after he pleaded guilty of driving after his license was revoked.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller, in imposing the mandatory jail sentence, also ordered that the high school student also pay the cost of court proceedings.

Davison, who was waived from juvenile court jurisdiction, was riding a "mini-cycle" when he was arrested.

Dear Dr. Molner: After my daughter had her first polio shot she broke out in strange welts all over her body. She didn't feel ill and after a few hours they were completely gone. Her later polio shots didn't affect her at all. Can you explain why? — Mrs. S.

It might help if I knew the dates of her inoculations, but here's an educated guess: The early polio vaccine had penicillin as a preservative. Some people are hypersensitive to it, so later the penicillin was omitted. Perhaps your daughter had an allergic reaction to a dose of the earlier type of vaccine.

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter is a junior in college, very attractive and popular, but a year ago hair began to grow on her face and show dark. Could this be a matter of hormone imbalance? If we have the hair removed electrically, how do we find out who does this work? — Mrs. J. D.

There is a very large variance of normal hair growth, and unless it is extreme and there are other abnormal symptoms, it is pointless to hope that there is a "hormone imbalance" that can be corrected to solve the problem.

Electrolysis — the only method of permanent removal — is being done very widely, and you will have no trouble finding technicians in the yellow pages of the phone book in any large city.

Many technicians make it a practice to see that dermatologists and other physicians have a chance to examine the results of their work. Your own physician probably can refer you to a good one.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, including scores of pertinent questions and their answers, send for my booklet, "Make Menopause Easier."

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused: Do not say, "We holidayed at the beach." "Holiday" is a noun and an adjective, but not a verb. Say, "We spent the holiday (noun) at the beach dressed in holiday (adjective) attire."

Often mispronounced: Pommel (saddle part). Pronounce pum-mel, preferred.

Often misspelled: Wretch. (miserable person). Retch (to vomit).

Synonyms: Motive, consideration, ground, impulse, incentive, inducement, influence, purpose, reason.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: graffiti: a rude inscription, drawing, or the like, found on rocks, walls, etc. (Pronounce graf-fee-toe, accent second syllable). "The archaeologist was intrigued by the graffiti on the wall of the tomb."

Lunar Orbiter To be Destroyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Space officials planned to transmit a signal early today designed to send Lunar Orbiter 1 crashing into the moon's hidden backside.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the craft's self-destruction is necessary to eliminate possible interference with the second Lunar Orbiter to be launched Nov. 6. The signal was to be flashed by officials of NASA's Lunar Research Center at Hampton, Va. Officials estimate the impact time at 9:30 a.m. EDT.

But as a spokesman said early today, "We won't know whether it crashed until it fails to come around the other side of the moon."

Hanoi Lauds Red Chinese Missile Shot

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam continued today to praise Communist China for its successful test firing of a guided missile carrying a nuclear warhead.

A statement by North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh Friday described the event as a "great contribution to the revolutionary struggle of the people of Viet Nam and the world against imperialism headed by U.S. imperialists, and a great stimulus to the cause of preserving world peace."

A report from Yugoslavia's Tanjug news agency in Belgrade said Peking residents followed the announcement with demonstrations, drum-beating and displays of portraits of party chairman Mao Tse-tung.

The Washington Post quoted informed sources today as saying the Chinese missile had traveled 400 miles to an explosion on target about 100 miles west of Lop Nor in southwest China.

4 Fined for Possession of Hen Pheasants

Four Green Bay men, arrested by a conservation warden who said he found two hen pheasants under the seat of their car, drew stiff fines Friday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Charged with possession of hen pheasants during closed season were Milton Grasse, 23; Dennis Schuh, 25; Goodwin Johns, 24, and Orbie Prevost, 53.

Johns and Prevost did not appear in court, but submitted written waivers of appearance along with $75 bonds. Judge Keller found them guilty and fined them each $75 and costs.

Grasse and Schuh pleaded guilty and drew fines of $50 each or 24 days in jail.

The four men were arrested Oct. 23 in the Town of Seymour. A warden, called to the scene by Seymour police who said the men were hunting too near the city limits, told the court the men had four cock pheasants. John Race

Your "Get-Things-Done" Congressman — Democrat

Congressman John Race recently exposed the fact that individuals making $1 million per year frequently do not pay any federal income tax. Congressman Race believes such inequities must be corrected. His legislation to boost individual exemptions from $600 to $1,000 on your tax return is a step in the right direction.

Menominee County Grant Called Economic Lifesaver

$1,850,000 Assistance Act Expected to Provide Tax Relief, Completion of Sewer Facilities

KESHENA — Although local officials are still in the dark only and tax base in water and about just how the funds will be the community, the grant of some $1,850,000 in federal funds over a four-year period has been hailed as "a life saver for Menominee Enterprises and Menominee County."

The Menominee Assistance Act, introduced by Sen. Gaylord Nelson and Rep. Melvin Laird, is designed to assist residents of Menominee County following the abrupt transition from Indian reservation status to Wisconsin's 72nd county in 1961.

Had this money not been included in the final supplemental appropriation bill no funds would have been available to offset Shawano-Menominee Joint School District's costs in 1966 along with other programs. Laird said.

'Life Saver' George Kenote, vice president in charge of land use and labor relations for Menominee Enterprises, the holding corporation controlling all Menominee assets (each tribal member is a shareholder), termed the federal grant a "lifesaver."

Catholics to Celebrate The Feast of All Saints

Holy Day of Obligation to Honor Martyrs In the Canon of Mass, Individual Prayers

"Let us all rejoice in the ed up for the repose of the souls Lord, keeping a festival day in of the faithful departed is honor of all the saints at whose explained in the introit, which solemnity the angels rejoice, reads, "Eternal Rest give to and give praise to the Son of them O Lord, and let the God perpetual light shine upon them."

With these words begin the masses, celebrating the Feast of All Saints, a holy day of obligation, in the Roman Catholic churches.

According to early practice, martyrs were honored on their day of martyrdom by local churches and frequently an account of their heroic death was sent to neighboring and at times, according to their renown, to distant churches. This led to an exchange of feasts.

Saints Honored
In the days of the persecution of Diocletian, which began in 302 A.D., the number of martyrs increased to such an extent that it was no longer possible to assign an individual day to each martyr or individual groups of martyrs. Hence, saints were honored by their inclusion in the prayers and above all, in the canon of the mass. However, this was not enough for the piety of the faithful and a martyrs eventually evolved.

Gregory III, pope from 731 to 741 A.D., consecrated a chapel in the basilica of St. Peter to all the saints and fixed the anniversary for Nov. 1.
All Souls Day follows All Saints Day, to keep the commemoration of all the deceased faithful in the state of grace.

Devotions Based
Devotion is based on the theological doctrine that the souls which have departed this life and have atoned fully for past transgressions are debarr'd for the time being from the beatific vision and are in purgatory and that the faithful pastor, Kimberly church; and on earth can assist them by Dr. John Bouquet, Neenah prayer, alms-deeds, indulgences, and especially by the sacrifice of the Mass.

Priests may celebrate one mass for their own intention, the second must be for all the faithful departed and the third, for the intentions of the pope.

The purpose of masses offered

Iola-Scandia	10-1

Weyauwega's Indians, last year's Central Wisconsin Conference co-champions, did themselves one better this season by clinching sole possession of the title on the strength of a 19-0 conquest of Manawa in final regularly-scheduled league action Friday night.

Waupaca waylaid Iola-Scandia, 45-0, and Marion shellied Amherst, 41-2. In clinching its ninth straight win, including 6-0 in hoop play, Weyauwega, the state's fifth-ranked small school, met stubborn resistance from the Wolves who needed a triumph to finish in a first-place deadlock. After a scoreless opening quarter, Manawa fumbled a punt on its own 4-yard line and the Indians recovered, setting up a dash to paydirt by Fred Buchholz on the following play. The count held at 6-0 until the closing segment when the Indians recovered, setting up a dash

Date's Success Not Determined By What She Orders to Eat

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A bunch of the guys in my platoon want to know what to do about a problem that bugs a lot of us. When a guy takes a girl to dinner, it is considered bad manners to tell her that she has a husband who will not let me have any money. I have been married to Bruno for 35 years and have been kept completely in the dark about money matters. Also, he has a thing about cash. He won't let me have any.

We have a grown family, a lovely home, a new car and a joint checking account. But every bit of cash is in Bruno's wallet — and he takes it to work. You have no idea how humiliating it is to turn the house upside down looking for a dollar to give the March of Dimes or the Red Cross. I have to ask for a dime when I want to buy a spool of thread.

Bruno is good to me in all other ways, but his peculiarity about cash is driving me crazy. Advise me, please. — Comfortable but Penniless.

Dear C. But P.: Did you say you had a joint checking account? Well, for heaven's sake, Lady, write yourself a check for $20 and live like a human being. If you've been sitting on a joint checking account for 35 years and asking your husband for a dime to buy a spool of thread, you're as wacky as he is.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have been married for 10 months. I have a very good job here in this college town and my husband is working on his master's degree. The problem is my parents.

They have furnished our apartment, down to the last teaspoon. My mother has strong ideas and this apartment looks like her home, not mine. I don't object to this but my husband does.

Furthermore, the gifts continue to pour in almost daily from Mom and Dad and this is causing real trouble between my husband and me. I have tried to explain to him they are big-hearted and want me to have nice things. He says these gifts are ruining his self-respect and that I must put a stop to it. How can I do it without hurting his feelings? They have been just wonderful. — Smothered With Love.

Dear Smothered: Simply tell your folks that their generosity is causing marital problems and that in the future all gifts will be returned. Then keep your word. The success of your marriage may depend on it — and obviously, that success is more precious than any gift.

To solve some of the frustrations, disappointments and disillusionments of married life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Post-Crescent enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rules Are Made to Be Broken

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When you want to give sound advice to a beginner you tell him to play "third-hand high." You wouldn't say that to an experienced player because you expect him to pick the right time to break the rule.

West opened the five of hearts, and declarer played low from dummy. East played third-hand high, putting up the queen of hearts, and that was the end of the defense.

South won with the king of hearts, cleared the three top spades out of the way and then led clubs to force out the ace. East returned a heart, but dummy's ten and South's 13 gave him a second heart stopper.

The defenders could take their

Third-Hand Finesse
East should defeat the contract by playing the nine of hearts at the first trick. The play of the queen is necessary only if West has led from a suit headed by the ace-king, which is impossible in view of South's opening bid.

If East finesses with the nine of hearts at the first trick, Citizens for LaFollette, John H. South wins with the jack. East Bowers, Chrm., P. O. Box 2051, takes the first club trick with Madison, Wisconsin.

This play picks up dummy's ten of hearts and South's king at the same time. West is able to take four heart tricks, defeating the contract.

In Good Faith?

The offer made at Manila by the United States and its allies in Viet Nam to withdraw foreign troops if North Viet Nam does the same was obviously made in a further effort to get Hanoi to the negotiating table. But the offer also had the disturbing quality of a deliberate attempt to mislead that has characterized so many official statements on American participation in the war.

Premier Ky agreed with the offer by insisting that South Viet Nam would be able to handle the Viet Cong if troops from North Viet Nam as well as supplies were halted. But there has been absolutely no demonstration of any such ability on the part of the South Vietnamese forces. In fact, as the United States takes over more and more of the fighting against both Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops, the opposite has been indicated.

There has been northern help for the National Liberation Front for years and North Vietnamese troops south of the demarcation line for at least eighteen months. But the North Vietnamese troops had not been actively engaged in combat when Secretary McNamara finally determined early in 1965 that the war wasn't going well for South Viet Nam, and American troops were rushed to Viet Nam to prevent a complete rout. Reportedly there are not yet any North Vietnamese troops in the Mekong delta area where the South Vietnamese are now asking for American help in fighting the Viet Cong. And even what is now regarded as a stalemate in that area reportedly would go for the Viet Cong if it were not for the massive amount of American air, naval and helicopter support.

Even if Premier Ky's forces could successfully contain or even defeat the Viet Cong, the nation would not be safely out of danger from communism unless the pacification program succeeds. So far it has made little progress. If American forces are to be withdrawn within six months of signs of less interference from Hanoi, the assistance Ky obviously needs for the follow-up program would be snatched away. According to Hanson Baldwin of the New York Times, an advocate of winning the war to prevent the spread of communism in Southeast Asia, "any such withdrawal in the near future as that envisaged in the Manila communique implies to most officers a delayed defeat for Saigon and the United States. Pacification has barely started and the Viet Cong are thoroughly entrenched. Military leaders in Washington have always believed that it would take more United States troops than are now in South Viet Nam to confirm a victory. Withdrawal now would mean to them defeat."

If this is the military advice being given President Johnson — and General Westmoreland's statements at Manila about the need for more American troops would indicate that it is — then the allied offer to withdraw would appear to be only something to appease the political opposition at home and abroad. Of more pertinence is the statement by Senator John Stennis, chairman of the Preparedness subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee, that the United States will have "at least 500,000 military personnel in South Viet Nam by the end of 1967, . . . barring an unexpected turn of events," and that the number might rise to 750,000.

Congressman Melvin Laird has pointed out an apparent conflict in aims and intentions between the Manila communique and word he has had from the Defense Department that "Viet Cong military units would be deactivated in any proposed withdrawal of external forces from South Viet Nam." Nothing was said of any such plan either in Ambassador Goldberg's proposal to the United Nations or in the Manila communique which merely stated that "as the military and subversive forces of North Viet Nam are withdrawn, infiltration ceases and the level of violence thus subsides," that foreign forces would be withdrawn within six months. No mention was made of the National Liberation Front.

This may indeed be holding Hanoi back from any moves toward negotiations, as Congressman Laird suggests. But of even deeper import is what appears to be a deliberate effort to deceive the American people.

The City Budget

The recommendation of the City Council's Finance Committee that almost $300,000 be cut from the Board of Education's budget for the next fiscal year was bound to arouse controversy. This is the first time in recent memory that the school budget has been cut to any such extent. And certainly the Finance Committee took the action only after extended soul-searching and in the full knowledge that the action would be unpopular with certain segments of the citizenry.

But the cold hard fact that the Finance Committee had to face up to was that total budget requests for all city purposes for the next year implied a tax increase of $8 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, plus an additional increase of $1.40 for state-county purposes.

Under these circumstances the committee examined every department budget in great detail with an eye to eliminating all possible items which could be excluded without damaging essential services. The result was a recommended budget of $15,391,894, calling for a $7,594,200 levy to be raised through taxes, equal to a rate of $48.67, or an increase of $3.74 over this year. The $1.40 state-county levy makes the total increase $5.14.

In essence, the policy question facing the City Council when the budget comes up for action is whether the Appleton school system can continue to be financed along the liberal lines of recent years or whether the city's over-all financial picture calls for a tightening up in school spending.

The elected school board is perfectly right in defending its budget and arguing against a cut. Its responsibility is to provide the city with the best possible educational system.

But it is the responsibility of the City Council to determine what it believes the taxpayers of the city can afford, for education and for all other city purposes.

Kennedy and the Bishop

Although some qualms might be registered, it nevertheless is refreshing to note that Lawrence University's chapel contained a considerably larger number of people for Bishop James Pike's talk than for Sen. Edward Kennedy's.

When the Episcopal bishop appeared a week ago, every square foot of seating and standing space was filled. In a non-academic air, Sen. Kennedy's visit certainly provided a greater stimulus to the curious, but Lawrence's is hardly a non-academic air. The crowd at the Kennedy visit was as enthusiastic as expected but was not of overflow proportions.

The "egghead" association which has existed at Lawrence over the years is frowned on by many football fans and the like but apparently represents the greater portion of the university's enrollment. And this is not bad. An overdose of thinking has not injured anyone within our memory.

Airlifting Senators and Gifts

Last Christmas there were numerous campaigns successfully carried out to bring food and other gifts to Viet Nam both to American servicemen and to the thousands of Vietnamese children orphaned by the conflict.

But this year it has been announced that there can be no special flights. The planes are needed for the serious business of fighting an ever growing war. Since there has as yet been no conciliatory word from Hanoi, that the North Vietnamese will consider a truce to begin peace negotiations, the government's action can be understood even if the weapons of destruction must take precedence over works of mercy and joy.

However all the Air Force planes are not tied up with ferrying guns and supplies to our fighting men. Last week, as Congress was struggling to recess, a Senator opposed to part of the tax bill up for a vote said he would demand a quorum call. Senate Democratic Majority Leader Mike Mansfield immediately sent telegrams to those Democratic Senators already out of Washington because they are campaigning for reelection. Then Mansfield sent out three Air Force C-140's to pick up seven Democratic Senators from Montana to Michigan so they could approve a tax bill that included a provision for $35 million to the presidential election races of 1968.

It all depends upon what one thinks is important.

BY J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The most interesting elections coming up Nov. 8 are not necessarily the most important. Countrywide, the big thing at stake is the future of President Johnson's Great Society, and the destiny of that could rest in a comparatively small number of seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Johnson's success in the present Congress has often binged on support from one-termers in the House, nationally unknown, who rode into office with him two years ago, capturing 48 districts that had been Republican. Most of these freshmen Democrats are trying again, against strenuous GOP comeback efforts.

Here is what is at stake in the November election:

Thirty-five governorships, now divided 26 Democratic and 15 Republican.

Thirty-five seats in the U.S. Senate. Of the full 100 seats in the Senate, 67 are now held by Democrats and 33 by Republicans.

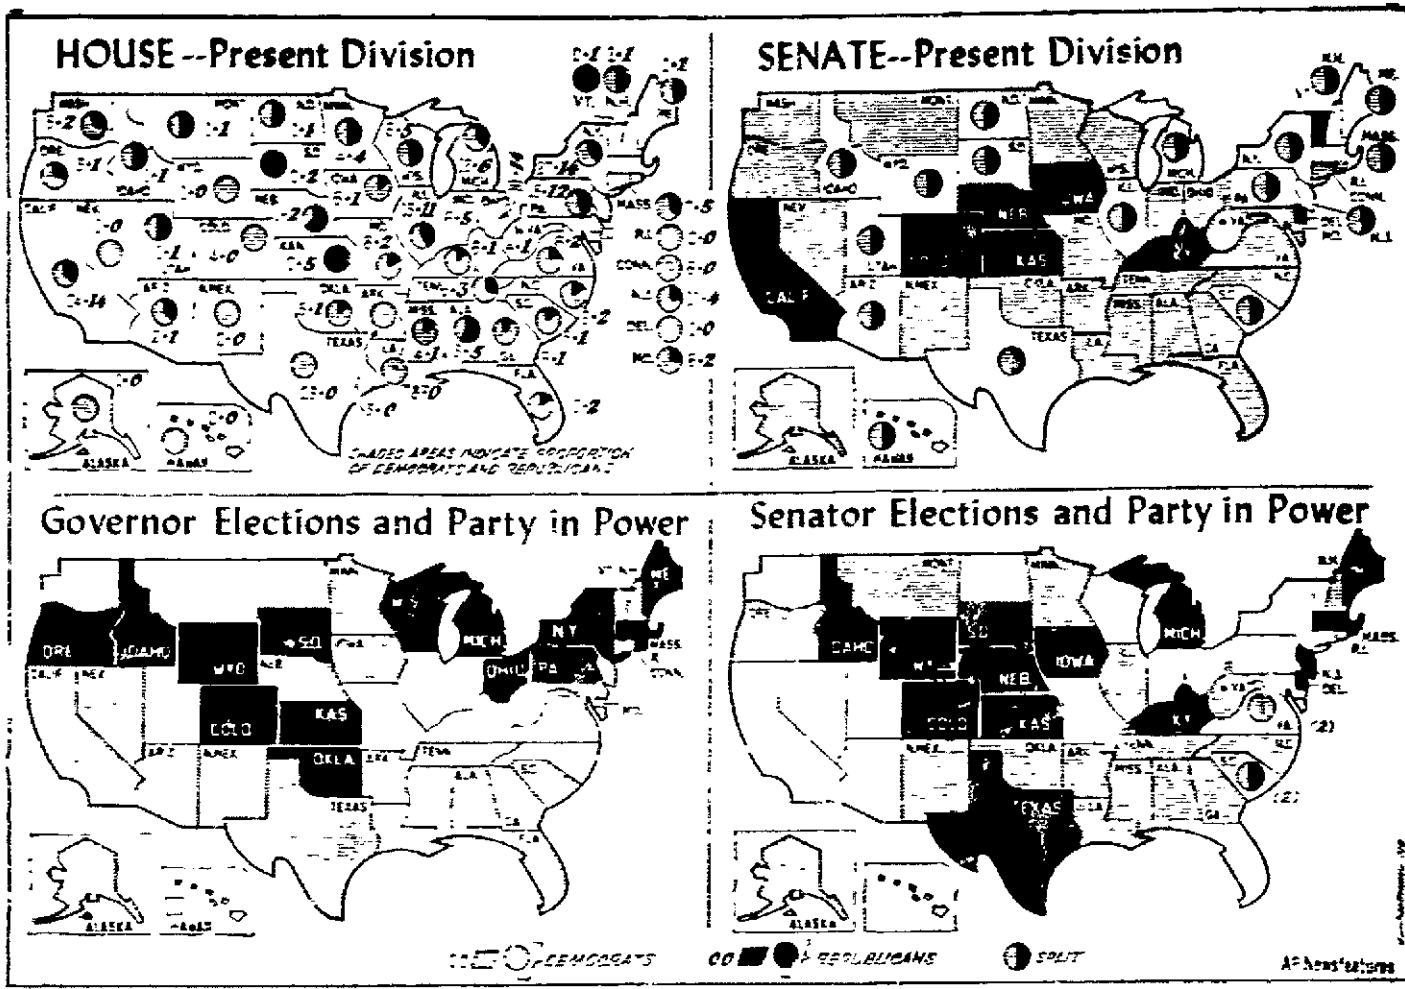

All 435 seats in the House, now divided among 294 Democrats and 139 Republicans, plus two vacancies.

Any list of the most dramatic races would put the following near the top.

California — In the nation's most populous state, Republican Ronald Reagan, handsome movie actor and a conservative hero, is trying to take the governorship away from Democrat Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, a man of marked liberal persuasion, who has held the job two terms.

Massachusetts — Running for the Senate are Republican Edward W. Brooke, the state's attorney general and a Negro, and Democrat Endicott Peabody, a former governor and football All-American. If Brooke should win he'd be the first Negro elected to the Senate since the 1880s.

New York — Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller calls himself an underdog, on the way up, in his drive for a third term as head of the nation's second biggest state.

He is opposed by Democrat Frank Daniel O'Connor, who has been hammering hard at tax boosts under Rockefeller. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, helping O'Connor campaign, says he's the man "who will put New York No. 1 in the nation." Also in the race, and expected to pull votes from O'Connor, is Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., the Liberal party candidate.

A Senate race that has attracted much attention features Sen. Paul H. Douglas, Illinois Democrat trying for reelection, and a Republican Charles H. Percy, who has been mentioned in GOP presidential talk as a comer. Their campaign was interrupted tragically by the murder of Percy's daughter.

Also being watched with more than casual interest are governorship battles in Alabama and Georgia.

In Georgia the contestants are Democrat Lester Maddox, best known as the man who closed his Atlanta restaurant rather than serve Negroes, and Republican Rep. Howard Callaway. Callaway had been given a good chance to become that rarity — a Republican governor in the deep South, before Maddox showed great strength in a Democrat primary run-off.

In Alabama, the Democratic candidate for governor is Mrs. Lurleen Wallace, running as a second-in because state law forbade her husband George from offering himself for reelection. Her Republican opponent is Rep. James D. Martin.

Most politicians see little chance of the Republicans reducing very much the Democratic preponderance among the governorships. In all the 50 states the lineup is now 33 Democrats and 17 Republicans.

Nor is there any apparent shift that would greatly affect the 67-33 majority the Democrats enjoy in Senate seats.

HOUSE IS KEY

Most politicians — but emphatically not President Johnson — forecast a Republican gain in the House. Usually in off-years — that is, years in which there is not a presidential election — the party outside the White House gains in House strength. During the 20th Century the average such gain has been 37 seats.

Such a GOP gain this year would still leave the Republicans in the minority, but it could imperil the Great Society program. It might revive the effectiveness of the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition that in years past had a powerful hand in determining what the House did — or didn't — do.

If the Democratic majority in the House were reduced by anything like as much as 37 votes, some existing programs, as well as future ones, might be seriously affected. Each year there must be annual appropriations voted for most programs if they are to continue.

Johnson, scoffing at some Republicans' predictions of gaining from 40 to 75 seats, said:

"Well, I will make a prediction. If they are as accurate this year as they have been in the past, the Democratic party will have a net gain when Congress meets next January."

As always, issues vary with the district but one that is being worried over north and south, east and west, is the white backlash. Overriding in many instances may be the issue of what to do about the war in Viet Nam. Or inflation. But in a lot of districts it may boil down simply to which candidate is more attractive, promises the most, and has best avoided making the people mad.

Wisconsin Report

State Bureaucracy's Cry Against Reorganization Brings Skepticism

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Running like a prayerful lament through the deluge of statements from the state administrative establishment in opposition to the suggested pattern of state government reorganization is the charge that the reshuffling blue print will destroy the continuity, independence and integrity of the major state operating services.

Wyngaard

Typical of the aggrieved response is that of a spokesman for the State Medical Society of Wisconsin, commenting with alarm about the suggested consolidation of the state health and welfare services into a single agency as advanced in a preliminary way by the Commission on Reorganization of the State Government.

Just about the same worry has been expressed by other major administrative agencies, notably the State Conservation Commission in a particularly resentful resolution a few weeks earlier.

FEARS EXPRESSED

Dr. F. E. Drew of Milwaukee, evidently speaking as the voice of the organized physicians, notes the broad powers now held by the State Board of Health and the stability of its leadership under the present system. He asks:

"Should such broad powers be given to one man who may reasonably be expected to be replaced with each succeeding change in the governor's office?"

It is not clear from Dr. Drew's essay that he understands the philosophical background of the reorganization theme as it has been developed by the blue ribbon advisory commission, aside from its goals of economy and efficiency sought to be achieved through a reduction in the number of agencies and the hoped for elimination of unneeded overhead expenditures.

The idea basically is a modified form of "cabinet" administration. This is a way of saying that the purpose would be to strengthen the role of the elected executive in the direction of state services and the development of state policy. Tastes may differ, and obviously do, on the question of the relation of the elected head of the state to the agencies that are nominally subordinate to him and are popularly supposed to be under his control to some degree. But there is no disputing that the actual control of the governor, under the present laws and the traditional system of insulation, is negligible if it exists at all. The Board of Health as an example which contains not a single functionary directly responsible to the people or under popular control, could thumb its collective noses at the governor. He would have no immediate recourse.

The alternative system would be a modification of the cabinet system in Washington, where the president has major department chiefs of his own choosing, including those department heads who rule in service agencies paralleling those in the state system that insist upon their political isolation and autonomy such as the health department.

REASONS FOR OPPOSITION

There can be no doubt that these are men of responsibility and public spirit and good will who thoroughly believe that theirs is the position that best protects the public interest. Yet they curiously overlook the fact that each of them owes his own stated term appointment to the free selection of some governor, while so dreading the idea of gubernatorial selection in the future on a somewhat more flexible basis.

Is it possible that they are confounding the public interest with their own convenience and preference and possibly reflect loyalty to tradition and the existing order of things? The outsider is inclined to be skeptical when the outcries are so nearly unanimous and so similar in tone and content. If the consent of the bureaucratic establishment is required to reform the patternless state government into a functional and logical table of organization, the goal is probably beyond reach.

Looking Backward

Post Office in New Location

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Oct. 13, 1866.

On Oct. 2 last Mr. G. M. Robinson took possession of the Post Office and has since removed it to P. H. Smith's building just south of the Congregational Church.

It appears that unless the whole front is opened into one room, that it will be too small for the rush that usually attends the receipt of the mail. The building from which the office was moved was none too large to accommodate the multitude. The present one is even smaller.

We understand that one cause for the removal of the office to another building was that it had been rented to other parties before Robinson had secured it — of the truth of this we know nothing. In none of the large towns in the state, we believe, are the post offices on principal business streets.

Complaint has been frequent that the former location discriminated in favor of the business adjacent to it, as against other portions of the business more remote from it. Whether the complaint was well founded we leave to others to decide for themselves, referring to a remark said to have been made by a business man near by that "the post office as formerly located was worth over $400 a year to us!"

Now it no longer will be a bone of contention in that respect.

Mr. Robinson has employed two young men to assist in doing the work — Charles Russell and George Alexander — each of them having had previous experience in the business, and we doubt not that every effort will be made to expedite matters there and give no just cause for complaint.

25 YEARS AGO

Saturday, Oct. 25, 1941.

Arthur Starnes, 36, made a world record jump from an airplane — a fall of five and one-half miles before opening his parachute — in Chicago to make what was called "an inestimable aid to aviation, especially military flying."

Dr. and Mrs. O. R. Busch were co-chairmen of the Manhattan Club's second dance of the season. Serving also on the planning committee for the dance at Castle Hall were Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Clough, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Denzin, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Barkow, all of Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Clark, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Cooper, of Neenah.

The committee in charge of the Women of the Moose card party to benefit Mooseheart included Mrs. August Haferbecker, chairman, Mrs.

George Bruchnofske, Mrs. Frank Karweick, Mrs. George Aures, Mrs. Jake Kromer and Mrs. Minnie Davis.

10 YEARS AGO

Saturday, Oct. 27, 1956.

Paul Vanderheiden received the highest award in Cub Scouting from his mother, Mrs. Paul Vanderheiden Sr., at special ceremonies of Pack 55 of St. Patrick Church.

The South Side Athletic eighth grade football team finished its season unbeaten. Composed mainly of McKinley and Sacred Heart boys, the team was coached by Roger Van Dinter, assisted by Kenneth Jansen. Members were Roger Grusha, leading point-maker for the season; Marvin Hietpas, co-captain and top ground gainer; Alvin Vandenberg, who led in pass-catching; co-captain Robert Cavert; Paul Sonnenleitner, Richard Hietpas, Eugene Schimmer, Gerald Gendron, John Wichman, Frank Forrest, James Seidl, James Jensen, Bill Gerhardt, Daniel Spletter, Peter Werner, Raymond Sanders, Tom Cavert and Peter Bartmann.

C. C. Williams and Frank Sanders, both of Appleton, were among the 66 representatives from Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa attending a plant management conference at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

West Ousts AHS from Contention

Gutzman's Field Goal Proves Decisive in 10-7 Triumph

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — The "bner Doubleday of football tossed restlessly in his grave last night, as Green Bay West used a 13-yard field goal by Dennis Gutzman mid-way in the fourth quarter to edge Appleton, 10-7, and give the Wildcats a shot at a tie for Fox River Valley Conference crown.

West finished with a 6-2 mark in the league, while the Terrors had to settle for a disappointing 5-3 log. If Preble defeats Manitowoc and Sheboygan North beats Fond du Lac today, it would result in a 4-way deadlock for the league title.

The tame final score of 10-7 does little justice to the excitement and confusion generated in one of the weirdest contests witnessed in some years.

It all started out reasonably enough, as Appleton capped a 45-yard drive late in the first quarter on a 20-yard touchdown pass to halfback Gary Vivoda. The husky senior grabbed the short look-in over the middle

Wayne Lutz Has Leg Fracture

from Steve Eggert and raced into the end zone to give the Terrors a 6-0 advantage with 2:36 left. Scott Ferguson converted, and the 7-0 count stood up until over one quarter's time later.

Cats Strike Back

The Appleton defensive unit, rugged as always against the running attack, hadn't allowed the Wildcats inside the Terror's 25-yard stripe in the first two periods. Then lightning struck from the West 45, when Jerry Taage hit Jim Anderson on a short pass over the middle.

Wills Returns From Dodgers' Japanese Tour

Leaves Without Permission for Treatment of Knee

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maury Wills, a celebrated runner, wants to get a running start on the 1967 season, so he has made a break for home.

The Los Angeles Dodgers shortstop has left his team's barnstorming tour of Japan to return home for treatment of his ailing right knee, the Los Angeles Times reported Friday.

Wills said he wanted to return to Los Angeles for a consultation with Dodger team physician, Dr. Robert Kerlan, according to Times baseball writer Frank Finch, who is with the club.

"I thought the layoff between the World Series and the first game in Tokyo would help," Wills said, "but my knee doesn't feel any better than it did at the end of the season. There is a lot of work to be done to get my knee in condition for next season. I'm 34 and it will take time."

Played With Brace

Finch said Wills, who played most of the season with a steel brace on the knee, asked Dodger President Walter F. O'Malley for permission to leave the tour, but O'Malley did not give his approval.

"It probably was the biggest decision I have ever had to make," Wills said. "I realize Mr. O'Malley is the boss, but I had to do it."

Wills didn't accompany the team for the first two games of the National League champions played during a stopover in Honolulu, en route to Japan. But the shortstop joined the club for the four games played in Japan so far.

O'Malley said it was a breach of conduct on the part of Wills. "But there will be no discussion of any possible disciplinary action until we have had time to evaluate the situation after our return to Los Angeles."

"As captain of the team," O'Malley continued, "a higher degree of devotion to duty was expected of Maury."

Before the season ended, the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Wes Parker were cited to make the 24-game goodwill tour.

Lions Seek to Stop Their 'Charitable' Ways Sunday

Lead in Penalties; Nowatzke, Taylor Used Often as Receivers

Post-Crescent News Service

DETROIT — The Lions have been yelling that they've been too charitable.

They aim to stop it — at least until Christmas — and the Packers could be the Lions' first non-charity case in Tiger Stadium Sunday.

Coach Harry Gilmer of Detroit figures that the Lions lost two of their five games by "just giving the ball away and stopping ourselves with penalties."

The Lions have been penalized 49 times in their first seven games. The penalties added up to 533 yards in losses. Needless to say, the Lions are leading the NFL in both categories. By comparison, the Colts are low with 24 penalties for 210 yards. The Packers are next, with 25 for 236.

Have 14 Intercepted

In addition, the Lions lost the ball 13 times on fumbles and had 14 passes intercepted.

The Packers can expect little "charity" Sunday, because the Lions have made a firm resolve not to give things away. In fact, Owner William Clay Ford, general manager Edvin Anderson and Gilmer even had a meeting to discuss ways and means to prevent fumbles and penalties.

On the individual statistical side, it is interesting to note that both the Lions and Packers suffered considerably to their fullbacks.

Sanders Leads Hawaiian Test

Barber, Ken Still Second; Casper Fires Round of 66

HONOLULU (AP) — This is no year for sweet swingers in the Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

Most of the guys in front at the midpoint would look bad in a neighborhood weekend four-some on style points.

And a spectator who only saw Doug Sanders play the 18th hole in the second round — where he took four to get down from the edge like any 20 handicapper — wouldn't believe that Sanders had a three-stroke lead.

But Sanders produced enough good shots to collect a second round 67 Friday and take the lead at 133 in the $57,000 tournament.

Miller Barber, the portly Louisiana veteran whose swing is almost as choppy as Sanders, and Ken Still, the cheerful Tacoma, Wash., thin man, were second with 136 totals.

Xavier High School's devastating gridiron legions demolished Green Bay Premontre, 20-0, here Friday night to extend their unprecedented Fox Valley Catholic Conference reign through a sixth consecutive season.

While Xavier was humbling the hitherto co-leading Cadets for the sixth straight year, De Pere Pennings crushed Oshkosh Lourdes — another of the previous lead sharers — 31-7, to assure the Hawks of a fifth undisputed championship and a record sixth straight title, overall.

One of the largest football crowds in Goodland Field history — more than 4,500 fans — watched the explosive Hawks break to a 14-0 first-half lead on a pair of John Wenning touchdown passes (62 and 21 yards) to Tom Heinritz.

In the second half, the Hawks practiced the fine art of ball control (33 plays to 13) not only to protect their advantage but to bolster it — on a 19-yard scoring dash by Terry Graff.

Cadet Streak Ends

In scoring their sixth successive victory since a FVCC season opening loss to Lourdes and snapping the Cadet win streak at five games, the Hawks dominated all phases of play.

The line play was savage by both teams, but Xavier pre-empted — particularly in the second half. The Hawks also for a second half. The Hawks also for a second half. The Hawks also for a second half.

Miami Hurricanes Blow Trojans Off Unbeaten List, 10-7

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The tough Miami Hurricanes, coming on with a vicious rush after a slow start, belted fifth-ranked Southern California off the list of unbeaten football powers Friday night, 10-7.

"It was the best team we've played so far," Trojan Coach John McKay said after Miami's bullish running back, Doug McGee, rammed four yards for the winning touchdown on the first play of the last period.

"Defensively, they're by far the best we've seen," McKay added.

Miami's defense, fifth stoutest in the nation, controlled Southern California by ground and air while the Hurricane offense was frittering away numerous scoring opportunities through the first three periods.

But the defenders put on their best show after McGee's clincher, clobbering every Trojan effort to fight back.

And, for the second time in three weeks, an unbeaten giant has fallen in the Orange Bowl. Two weeks ago, the Hurricanes hung the season's first defeat on Georgia.

Gives Warning

The 210-pound McGee, wearing a foam-padded helmet after being knocked senseless in the last two games, gave the Trojans a warning when they kicked off. Nate Shaw, who met McGee headon after a 31-yard return, was knocked out.

With Bill Miller at quarterback, Miami moved twice to the Trojan six and once to the 13 in the first half but gained only three points, on a 28-yard field goal by Ray Harris.

Southern California moved into a 7-3 lead just before halftime on a six-yard scoring pass from halfback Rod Sherman to Ron Drake.

Coach Charlie Tate, searching for a scoring punch, sent David Olivo in for Miller in the third period and he led Miami to paydirt. From the Trojan 15, McGee fought his way across in two plays.

Linebacker Tom Beier, with 13 tackles and four assists, led the Miami defense but towered only slightly above the other stalwarts — particularly Jimmy Dye, Bob Tarek, Ted Hendricks, Ken Corbin and John Barnett.

Rich Leon, Southern California's punter, was lost for the season, going down with a broken leg after being hit on a kick formation.

Miami goes into its last four games with a 4-2 record. After beating Colorado easily in the opener, the Hurricanes were nosed out by Florida State and Louisiana State and now have won three straight.

Chandler held in favor of Neely but the 10th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the decision and the Supreme Court has once refused to rehear the case.

Chandler said he needed time to study his position in the case. He said he felt he could not issue an injunction if the Supreme Court's decision was not final.

In Dallas, Tex., Tex Schramm, Cowboys president and general manager, said he did not believe the delay would affect the over-all morale of the team but "it certainly will keep Ralph Neely in a disturbed state."

Schramm added, "I think, however, he is a fine athlete and a man who likes to do his best so every game he does his best. But I am sure he wouldn't be blamed if his mind sometimes wandered and he wondered what was happening up in the courts."

Pennings '11' Jolts Knight Title Hopes

Post-Crescent News Service

DE PERE — The Fox Valley Catholic Conference championship dreams of Oshkosh Lourdes were squashed by Abbot Pennings Friday night.

The Squires turned two Knight fumbles and a pair of interceptions into touchdowns and put solid clamps on the Lourdes offensive attack to bury the visitors at Mtnian Stadium, 31-7.

Although the Pennings ground machine methodically pushed for 194 yards, it was the defense that played the major role in sending the Oshkosh eleven spinning from the penthouse position it had shared with Green Bay Premontre and Appleton Xavier prior to the game.

Xavier, thus claims the championship chips with its 29-0 drubbing of the Cadets at Appleton. Lourdes and Premontre settled for a share of second best.

Score Fourth Win

The Squires, in capturing their fourth win against three setbacks, managed a shaky, 6-0 lead at halftime and then poured the coals to a steamed-up second half barrage.

Lourdes went practically nowhere on the ground as the hulky Pennings defensive front wall smothered its guests with a measly 17 yards via terra firma.

Oshkosh quarterback Randy Walter was forced to stick to the sidelines in the second half. He was erratic and hit on only four of 21. Two of his pitches were picked off.

The only bright spot in the Lourdes attack was a 90-yard pass play from Walters to Tom Nevers. Walters, with a second down on his own five, lofted a bomb to Nevers, who gathered it in and romped to the Squire five. Then, with 1:36 left, Tom Beck scored.

In the first period, Tom Lemerond swiped a Lourdes aerial on the 50 and returned to the Knight 30.

Fullback John Koop, far and away the outstanding ball carrier on the field this particular evening, then bullied his way on four straight occasions and scored on a 1-yard plunge.

Koop, who rambled for 126 yards in 26 trips, tried to run in the extra point but was stopped.

The Squires widened the gap at 12-0 with 6:48 left in the third quarter. After recovering a fumble on the Lourdes 28, Pennings took nine plays to score, with Koop again banging in from a yard out.

Pennings wasted little time in upping its margin. The Squires recovered a Lourdes fumble on the visitors' 45.

Quarterback John Merline hit Bob Whitney with an 18-yard pass, and after a 5-yard penalty moved the ball to the 22. Merline took off around his own right end on a keeper and scored standing up. Mike Baxter booted the only extra point of the night to make it 19-0.

Steve Franken intercepted a pass midway in the final period to set up another Squire touchdown.

Squire coach Don La Violette dug into his hat of tricks, and Merline hit Dave Fauds on a tackle eligible pass for a 13-yard touchdown.

Pat Miskella tallied the final Squire TD on a 2-yard plunge.

Wausau and Madison Edgewood Triumph

Schofield '11' Blanks Wisconsin Rapids

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Lumberjacks and Evergreens left opponents in the darkest corner of the woods Friday while closing another chapter in the 1966 Wisconsin high school football season.

The Wausau Lumberjacks sealed their season with a hefty victory over Eau Claire North to capture a conference title, and Schofield's D.C. Evergreens in the poll, gained 243 yards on fifth consecutive time, set a new record for the conference with 58 yards in 24 carries.

Schofield, No. 2 in the big power roster, took advantage of eighth victory against no defense and gave little indication in the opening minutes that Red Raiders would be allowed an opportunity for the Wisconsin Valley Conference crown.

Has Never Won

The league title rode on the outcome of the game. Madison Edgewood, No. 3 in the AP poll of major schools, ended its season with a 39-13 triumph over Hartland Arrowhead. Edgewood is 1-1.

Wausau, securing the Big River Conference title for the second time in three years, defeated Eau Claire North 24-0.

A loss by league leader Manitowoc to Green Bay Preble to end, and a Sheboygan North victory over Fond du Lac, would mean another four-way combine in the loop lead.

The Fox River Valley Catholic Conference title goes to Appleton Xavier via Xavier's 20-0 victory over Green Bay Premontre and De Pere Pennings 31-7 upset of Oshkosh Lourdes, which had a chance to tie the Xavier for the crown.

La Crosse Aquinas rolled up 525 yards, 422 of them on the ground, in a 70-0 conquest of Stevens Point Pacelli.

Halfback Dan Rathburn scored three times for Aquinas.

No Super Bowl for Pasadena

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — and several other cities had been bidding for the super-bowl game between the champions of the two top professional leagues, tentatively set for Jan. 8.

Pasadena made it clear it does not want to endanger the prestige of what it considers the outstanding college bowl game of the year, and indeed the oldest in the country, with an invasion of professional football.

Pasadena, Miami, Houston

Officials of the Athletic Association of Western Universities (AAWU) and the Big Ten, which have a contract for the annual New Year's Day Rose Bowl Game, made it clear they did not like the professional encroachment.

Contractual terms which might have evolved also presented a problem between the college and proposed professional fields, mainly involving rich television contracts.

Vike Frosh '11' Blanks Ripon

Rechner, Meyer Score Touchdowns In 14-0 Victory

Lawrence University gained some measure of revenge for its varsity's loss to Ripon last week, when the Viking freshman stopped the Redmen yearlings, 14-0, Thursday at Ripon.

It was the final game of the season for Lawrence which won two out of its three starts. The Clyde Rusk-coached unit beat Lakeland, 40-6, and lost to Beloit, 27-6, in previous starts.

Lawrence got its first 6-point opener on the opening series of plays in the first quarter, when quarterback Tom Richardson hit halfback Paul Rechner for a 60-yard touchdown pass. Tim Meyer's extra-point boot gave the visitors a 7-0 lead.

Richardson set up the other Vike TD in the third quarter, when he scampered 15 yards to the Ripon 4-yard stripe. Denny Meyer then plunged over to seal the triumph. Meyer was again perfect on his conversion try.

Ripon's only threat of consequence came in the fourth quarter, when the Redmen drove to the Lawrence 20-yard line before being stopped by the tough Vike defensive unit.

The frosh Vikings boasted a balanced attack, picking up 129 yards passing and 97 yards rushing. Rechner was the leading ground gainer, with 60 yards in 12 carries, and Richardson chewed up 36 yards in eight attempts to complement his passing. Meyer added 22 yards in seven carries.

practices all season, but taken night he ran with unstoppable skill and determination.

The Ted Fritsch-coached Cadets had but one bonafide scoring chance and failed to capitalize. They had the door to the Xavier end zone open at the 1-foot line but were unable to gain admittance.

On a second down-and-1-foot play, the Cadets' Larry LaCombe was hit fiercely just before reaching the goal-line and fumbled. Xavier's Dan Hardy and Ollie Rechner pounced on the ball in the end zone for a touchback.

In the first quarter, Premontre notched two straight first downs to reach the Xavier 30. The staunch Hawk defense then held Dave Hoppe — an excellent runner, who gained 90 yards in 11 carries during the game — without gain. Bill Alford picked up a yard. But Dan Kennedy led a charge that spilled quarterback Brian Bengtson for an 8-yard loss, and Premontre punted into the end zone.

Xavier took over at the 20 and spread-eagled the remaining 80 yards in three plays — a 7-yard run by "Bubby" Graff, a 5-yard pick-up by Jerry Rankin and Wenning's 68-yard "bomb" to Heinritz. The fleet Heinritz got behind the Cadet secondary, grabbed the ball around the Premontre 30 and scampered the rest of the way. Gene Jack kicked the first of two extra points.

Shortly thereafter, an Xavier drive was blunted on the Premontre 13 on a Ken Baumgart interception.

Keep Pressure On
The Hawks kept the pressure on, however, and a weak punt early in the second quarter, gave them possession on the Premontre 30. Six plays produced the six points. On the scoring play, Wenning's pass was batted around near the goal-line by defender Craig Vandenberg and Heinritz. The stellar split end displayed magnetic hands as he came down with the ball for the TD.

Wenning, the league's premier passer, completed eight for 11 Greg Steinhorst, who spelled him briefly, completed his only attempt.

Xavier's second-half TD drive, which started late in the third period and ended early in the fourth, covered 62 yards and required 16 plays. It was all accomplished on the ground, except for a 6-yard pass by Heinritz.

On the scoring play from the 19, Terry Graff powered through an opening in the line like a runaway locomotive, tore out of several defenders' grasps and sprinted for the end zone.

As the game ended, the irresistible Hawks owned the ball on the Premontre 15.

Beman, Murphy Come Through

Injured Stars Return U.S. to Contention

By WILL GRIMSLEY
MEXICO CITY (AP) — "If I were playing for myself and not for my country," said Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., "I wouldn't hesitate — I'd pull out of the tournament."

"In high school, I played a football game with a broken ankle," said Bob Murphy of Pensacola, Fla. "I'm not going to let a bum finger keep me from playing four rounds of golf."

Two players who refuse to quit have pulled the United States back into the fight for the Eisenhower Trophy and added a dramatic tinge going into the final 36 holes today in the battle for the world amateur team championship.

Rugged Australia is still in front with a score of 433, seven shots ahead of South Africa at 442 and eight in front of the United States and Britain, tied at 443.

The word around the 7,125-yard Club de Golf Mexico is: "Look out for the injured Yanks."

And — "The British are coming." The defending champion British made the strongest comeback Friday with a 69 by Scotsman Ronnie Shade and a 70 by Mike Bonallack, English internationalist and two-time British Amateur champion.

Opens With 80
But the dramatics were left to the Americans, who seemed out of it when Downing Gray, Walker cup veteran from Pensacola, Fla., opened with an 80 and Beman turned up with an aching back.

The 28-year-old Maryland insurance executive said his back has been hurting him for days, but the pain became acute shortly after he had started his second round with two birdies.

"It felt like I was being hit with a meat ax," he said. "I had to use a three-quarter swing. When I tried a full swing, it hurt so badly, tears came to my eyes." He had four bogeys on five holes.

At the 12th, it seemed Beman might not be able to finish. A doctor was summoned to the course.

"What's Downing doing?" Deane asked a U.S. Golf Association official.

"He shot an 80," was the reply.

"I'll play," Deane said, and hit every green on the following holes with a birdie at the 13th.

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael, Calif., also came in with a 73 despite two three-putt greens and that left it up to Murphy, with the next-to-last group on the course.

Murphy hurt his third finger of his right hand mysteriously in practice Wednesday and has been deadening it before every round.

Bob, a cigar clamped between his teeth, birdied the 15th and came to the last hole needing par for a 70 and a chance to go ahead of the British into third place. He paced an approach six feet from the cup and missed his birdie by a hair, taking a 71.

Steelers Test Dallas in East

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Even though it's being played a month before Thanksgiving, the second Detroit-Green Bay game shapes up as a crucial one for the Packers as usual.

Several times in the past the Lions and Packers played on Thanksgiving Day and many of those contests have been classic battles. Notable among these was the 1962 encounter when the Detroit defense spent much of the afternoon on Packer quarterback and dealt Green Bay its only loss of the season.

But should the Packers beat Detroit for the second time this season Sunday, they would be in an imposing position to take the NFL's Western Conference title.

The Packers, 6-1, beat the Lions 23-14 in their first meeting this season, but Detroit was in the game most of the way. And that was before Karl Sweetan took over the quarterback chores for the Lions.

With the addition of Sweetan, the Lions have shown more offensive punch, though at 2-5 and rear the conference cellar they must be rated as underdogs.

In the Eastern Conference, the second-place Dallas Cowboys, 4-1-1, entertain Pittsburgh 1-4-1 which once again has the services of end Gary Balfanz, tackle Dan James, linebacker John Campbell and defensive tackle Riley Gunnel, all of whom nursed injuries during the recent Steelers week off.

The front-running St. Louis Cardinals, 5-1-1, in the East face a tough opponent in Chicago, 3-3, Monday night in a nationally televised game. Defensive end Doug Atkins is doubtful for the Bears, but a pulled muscle, but Dick Butkus, middle linebacker, is expected to go despite a similar ailment.

Beach Still Hurt
Cleveland expects to improve on its 4-2 third-place mark when it meets Atlanta, 0-7. Defensive back Walter Beach might not play because of a pulled muscle, but tackle Dick Schafrath might have recovered enough from his ankle injury to see action.

Baltimore, second in the West with a 4-2 mark, is at Los Angeles, 4-3, in a 6:02 game for both clubs which are fighting with San Francisco for second place in the West. Linebackers Ted Davis and Steve Stonebreaker are ailing for the Colts, and defensive ends Dave Jones and Lamar Lundy are listed as probable starters for the Rams despite injuries.

The 49ers, 3-2-1, play at Minneapolis, 1-4-1, where the Vikings are a full strength with the return to full speed of Tommy Mason, who had a knee injury. Philadelphia and Washington, tied for fourth in the East with 4-3 marks, meet in Philadelphia, Joe Don Lowe figures to open at fullback to Washington.

West Edges Terrors, 10-7

Anderson galloped all the way to the Terrors' 15 before being stopped. The Cats got the tying TD on the next play with only 1:47 remaining, as Taege fired a strike to Dave Mason on the goal line for the score. Gutzman tackled on the PAT.

But perhaps the play that was indicative of the type of things to come occurred in the first quarter. The Cats' Taege dropped back to pass, threw, and astonishingly caught his own toss when an onrushing lineman batted it right back to him. The swat happened so quickly that Taege had time to roll out and throw a second pass — which was incomplete.

The third quarter's play can best be described as "incredible." In the span of 12 minutes, the ball changed hands 10 times with neither team scoring. Appleton intercepted three passes in the frame (and six for the entire game), but lost two fumbles in return. The Terrors found time to punt twice, while West kicked once and fumbled the ball away on a fake punt after the runner had achieved the first down.

Straight and True
Gutzman, the 205-pound senior fullback, calmly arched the ball through the Lambeau Field uprights after the Wildcats stalled on a drive at the Appleton 10. The key to the 30 yard drive was a 16-yard reception by end Mike Hempel on a crucial third-and-10 situation from the Terrors' 29-yard line. A West defender "stole" the ball for an apparent 70 yard TD in the same quarter, but officials had blown the play dead.

The Appleton offense, which had chewed out 116 yards on the ground in the first half, managed only 19 more in the second half. Gary Vivoda had 50 yards in nine carries to lead the Terrors' ground game, but he actually had 52 yards in six carries for the first half. Steve Eggert tossed for 33 yards on six completions in 14 attempts, and had one throw intercepted.

West was most effective in the air, where Taege hit a not-so-sparkling 10 out of 30 and had six intercepted. But the 10 completions garnered 161 yards, total, including 93 yards to Jun Anderson. Anderson was also the leading ground gainer with 53 yards in eight attempts, while Gutzman was held to 33 yards in 19 tries.

Strong Defense Holds Bulldogs To Only 57 Total Yards

SHAWANO — The stubborn second TD after Orman Waukau Shawano defense, ransacked for 61 points in its last outing pass 45 yards to the New London five. John Martin booted the extra point.

After the kickoff, New London fumbled on its first scrimmage play and tackle Laurie Holly recovered for Shawano on the Bulldog 18. Six plays later, Orman Waukau hit Leon Penass with an 11-yard scoring strike for the final six points.

The Bulldogs penetrated to the Shawano two early in the final period before losing the ball on downs. Other than that drive, which was set up by a pass interception, New London was unable to move past the	First Downs Yards Rushing Yards Passing Passes Intercepted by Fumbles Lost Penalties	11 209 108 7-19 2 4 4-59 and three other backs scored two touchdowns each.

Gale-Eutrick, now 8 - 0, and No. 10 in the Little Ten, won its fifth Coulee Conference title in six seasons by blanking winless Bangor 34 - 0. Halfback Ken Johnson collected four of the victors' touchdowns.

Plunging in from the two, Jeff Waukau tallied the Indians' three touchdowns leading Waukesha past Wauwatosa West 24 - 12. Waukesha remains tied for the Milwaukee Suburban Conference lead with Whitefish Bay, which dominated West Allis Central 35-12.

The Chilton Tigers captured their first Eastern Wisconsin title since 1959 by dumping Elkhart Lake 49-0 ending the season with an 8-0 mark.

Tiger halfback Don McHugh scored five touchdowns, and kicked three extra points hoisting his season output to 118 points — a conference record.

He gained 223 yards against Elkhart Lake including 123 on pass receptions while teammate quarterback John Hauser completed 10 of 19 passes for 167 yards and four touchdowns. Hauser also ran for 37 yards.

Madison West downed Madison East 6-0 dropping east out of a tie for the Big Eight Conference lead. The lone touchdown came on Mike Feifarek's 29-yard pass to Steve Tropp.
